Fields of activity

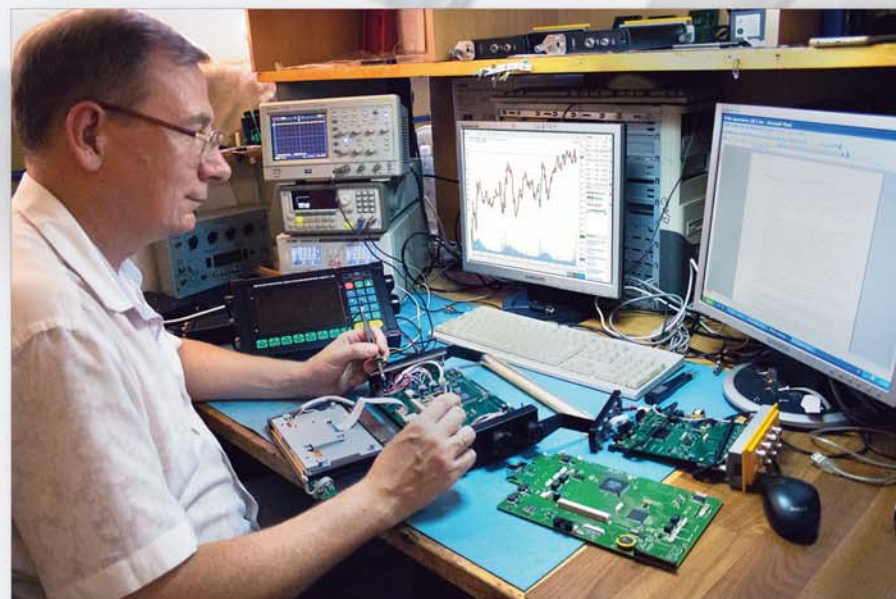

Scientific-Research Institute

Since 2004 the Ukrainian NDT Institute develops the devices for non destructive testing for all industries. Also it fulfills the scientific researches on applying NDT methods.

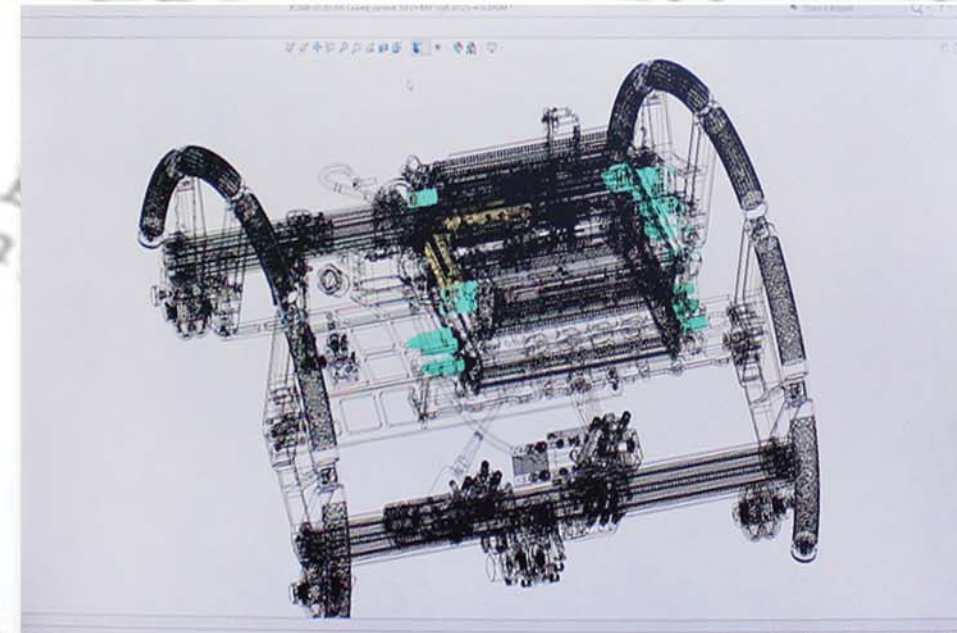

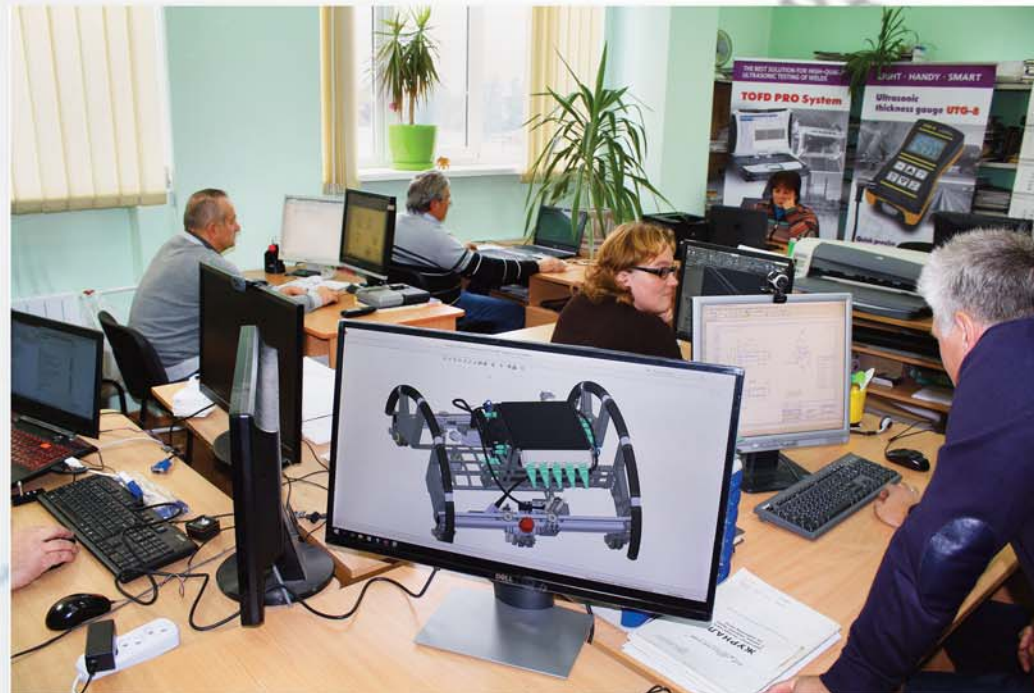

Currently, among others, the Institute deploys:

- two Doctors of Science,
- three PhDs in Technical Sciences,
- one research student.

Research and development (R&D)

The well-coordinated work of our development departments leads to the creation of the newest devices and equipment and also creates unique software.

Production

Own production facilities

We develop and manufacture products under our own brands. Also we provide OEM production for famous international companies from countries such as the United States, United Kingdom and Germany

We create unique testing systems

Automated line for magnetic particle and ultrasonic testing of railway wheel rim, hub, disk and flange.
